TEXAS HIGH SCHOOL PUBLICATIONS

By Laurence R. Campbell
Director, Quill and Scroll Studies

Published in 1897, The Comet of Stephen F. Austin High School in Austin is the first Texas high school yearbook, according to Quill and Scroll Studies. It has been gathering data for four years.

The Bronco of Denton Senior High School was published in 1901. Waco's Daisy Chain appeared in 1902. Quill and Scroll Studies has received no data of other Texas high school books published before 1911 when Fort Worth's Paschal published its annual.

Other early annuals were El Sendero, San Benito, 1912; The Oak, Oak Cliff, Dallas, 1913; The Lasso, Northside, Fort Worth, 1913; Yucca Gloriosa, Sweetwater, 1913.

In 1916 both the Corsican of Houston's Reagen High School and the Sasalamp of Lampasas were published. In 1917 the Highlander of Highland Park, Dallas, and the Spindletop of South Park, Beaumont appeared. Bryan's Corral came out in 1919.

Quill and Scroll has received no information about any other Texas high school yearbooks published before 1920.

Corrections and additions will be welcomed. Perhaps a department of journalism or school press association in Texas may make a more thorough study. Museums, libraries, and private collections may yield significant data.
